Celebrate Women's Equality Day on Aug. 26

Women's Equality Day commemorates the 19th Amendment of the U.S. Constitution. The amendment was ratified on Aug. 26, 1920, and guaranteed American women the right to vote.

Every year on Aug. 26 citizens across the nation honor those who took part in the long and difficult struggle for women's suffrage as well those since 1920 who have continued to fight for equal rights for women.

Americans believe in opportunity for all and, on this date, we honor the achievements of women who have charted the path to equal opportunity. Today American women are making a difference in their communities and workplaces. Women's accomplishments in education, business, science, art, medicine, athletics and in every other field have made America better and stronger.

The courage and determination of American women are exemplified in the personnel serving in our armed forces.

Children's 'Robin Hood'

Audience members are sure to enjoy the singing, dancing and acting that the cast has been diligently working on all summer. Admission is free and everyone is invited to attend.

MAEEFG is a volunteer group consisting of family members from the Presidio of Monterey, the Naval Postgraduate School and the Fleet Numerical Meteorology and Oceanography Center. MAEEFG provides educational and enriching activities for the children of military families living in the Monterey area. The group's project for this summer is to provide military children an opportunity to enjoy the arts and to develop their talents in music, dance, drama and art.

These children have worked hard throughout their summer vacation. They have been attending two rehearsals a week — reciting lines, memorizing songs and practicing dance movements to prepare for this special production. The children also have been helping with the sewing of costumes and the painting of scenery and props. They have been learning about sound production and cooking for the cast party. The children are all very excited to show off their talents on stage.

Please share in this Robin Hood musical experience. Show your support for the wonderful cast and crew and the volunteers who have given time this summer to enrich the educational experiences for our youth. This promises to be a great experience for both the participants and the audience.

Come enjoy an hour of fun! The experience will be priceless!

For more information about MAEEFG or its production of "Robin Hood" call Cindy at 242-6904.

Many rare photos of Presidio in historian's new book

The Presidio of Monterey is best known as the home of the Defense Language Institute Foreign Language Center, where generations of service members have been sent for foreign language training. But the Presidio already had a colorful history before the Army began using it for that purpose 58 years ago.

The entire rousing tale is the subject of Presidio of Monterey by retired U.S. Army Lt. Col. Harold E. Raugh, Jr., the Command Historian of the Presidio of Monterey. Raugh's new book tells the story of the Presidio through rarely seen photos chosen from the Presidio's archive and from other sources.

Published by Arcadia Publishing in its Images of America series, Raugh's Presidio of Monterey is a 128-page trade paperback that retails for $19.99 and is available at bookstores and AAFES outlets as well as from Internet booksellers.

As related in Raugh's book, the United States seized Monterey in 1846 during the war with Mexico and the U.S. Army soon constructed Fort Mervine overlooking Monterey harbor from a site on today's Presidio. The fort served a number of purposes until it was abandoned in 1866.

In 1902-1903 a modern cantonment was built in the area. In 1904 the new post was officially renamed the Presidio of Monterey after a long-gone Spanish fort established in 1770 near today's Lake El Estero, a few blocks from downtown Monterey. Throughout the first half of the 20th century the new Presidio of Monterey was home to infantry and cavalry regiments and also served in the 1940s as a reception center for Army inductees.

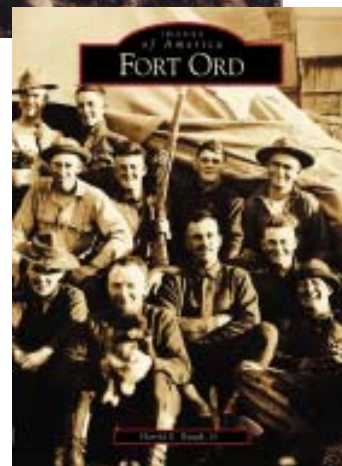

The Military Intelligence Service Language School was moved to the Presidio of Monterey in 1946 and was renamed the Army Language School in 1947. The ALS evolved into today's DLIFLC.

Presidio of Monterey is Raugh's second book to make extensive use of captioned photos to tell the story of a famous central California military post. His Fort Ord, published earlier this year by Arcadia, is now in its third printing.

To qualify for assistance, a soldier must be eligible to repay the assistance by allotment. Replacement items will be standard equipment for the vehicle. Postal initiative to speed absentee ballots to soldiers

A new labeling system at the U.S. Postal Service is designed to expedite absentee ballots to soldiers deployed around the world.

USPS employees will contact 3,000 county election officials all over the country to coordinate mailing of overseas absentee ballots. Once the blank local ballots are printed, they will be sent by local post offices via overnight Express Mail to San Francisco, Miami and New York, the three military gateways.

USPS will mail successive groups of ballots to military gateways daily and will determine the number of ballots per location at the gateways. Then the ballots will be sorted by destination and placed in containers specially marked for visibility and priority.

DOD's Military Postal System will then give the ballots priority handling for delivery overseas, will ensure they receive a proper, legible postmark upon return and will place them in easily identifiable containers. The ballots will then receive priority processing for delivery back to county election officials.

"If anything is moving, (the ballots) will be moving as well," said Mark DeDomenic, assistant deputy director at the Military Postal Service Agency.

The Army is asking that all soldiers be registered to vote absentee by Aug. 15, said Jim Davis, the Army's voting action officer. That way they should receive their ballots sometime in September and can have them sent out by the Oct. 11 deadline.

Davis said both of these deadlines are designed for soldiers in the theater of operations and he encouraged all soldiers to register and vote, even if they miss the deadlines.

Most states will accept absentee ballots until the close of business on election day, Nov. 2, but the Oct. 11 deadline should ensure all ballots will arrive in time to be counted. Each state has specified deadlines for receipt of absentee ballots.

For example, absentee ballots for Louisiana must be in no later than the day of the election while New York requires that the ballots are postmarked by the day before the election. North Carolina ballots must be in by 5 p.m. the day before the election and Pennsylvania absentee ballots must arrive by 5 p.m. on the Friday before the election.

Chapman University fall term

Chapman University's fall term "D" begins Aug. 23 and ends Oct. 24. General Education classes are designed specifically for DLIFLC students and meet DLIFLC foreign language associate degree requirements. Classrooms are located at 99 Pacific Street, Monterey. Tuition assistance covers tuition and enrollment fees. For more information visit the Education Center or call Jerry Edelen, Chapman Program Manager, at 647-3736.

MPC registration

Monterey Peninsula College in-person registration for the fall semester will be conducted from Aug. 12 to 18. Telephone registration ends Aug. 18. Classes begin Aug. 23. MPC fall schedules are available at www.mpc.edu. Fall schedules and enrollment forms are available at the POM Education Center. Dozens of independent study and on-line courses are of particular interest to the POM community. Geology, astronomy and chemistry courses with labs are also offered on Saturdays specifically for the convenience of DLIFLC students. California extends in-state residency rates for military family members. MPC tuition rates at $18 per semester hour are among the lowest in the United States.

Managing college loan debt

The government provides a loan consolidation program designed to reduce future default rates. Student loan holders can lock in current historically low interest rates before the expected rise occurs later this year. These programs simplify loan repayment by combining several types into one new loan making your debt more manageable for the following reasons: (1.) interest rates may be lower, (2.) repayment period may be extended, (3) monthly payment may be lower. For more information visit www.loanconsolidation.ed.gov

Troops to Teachers

Congress has provided $18 million for financial assistance and to maintain the network of Troops to Teachers (TTT) state offices. Pending availability of funds, financial assistance may be provided to eligible individuals as stipends of up to $5,000 to help pay for teacher certification costs or as bonuses of $10,000. Stipend and bonus recipients must agree to teach for three years in school locations that meet certain Department of Education criteria. TTT continues to pursue the goal of helping to relieve teacher shortages, especially in math, science, special education and other high-needs subject areas, and to assist military personnel in making successful transitions to second careers in teaching. Montgomery GI Bill, Selected Reserves.

For the most up-to-date information on the Montgomery GI Bill, Selected Reserves, try the following website: www.gibill.va.gov. Selected Reservists are entitled to Montgomery GI Bill benefits, which provides a maximum benefit of $10,152 (reflects 36 months of the maximum monthly benefit of $282), subject to the following conditions:

- The reservist is not receiving an ROTC Scholarship under the provisions of section 2107, Title 10, United States Code.
- The reservist makes an obligation after July 1, 1985, which must be for not less than six years.
- Prior-service or in-service reservists must enlist, reenlist or extend to a term of service not less than six years

Unlike the Montgomery GI Bill for active duty forces, there is no reduction in reserve pay for this benefit. Educational benefits begin immediately upon completion of the initial period of active duty for training. For further information, contact your Education Center.

Current term dates

Chapman University: Aug. 23-Oct. 24
Golden Gate University: Aug. 2-Oct. 11
Monterey Peninsula College: Aug. 23-Dec. 16 (Some courses end in late October.)

Loan repayment programs

The Army, Navy, Air Force and Reserves offer Student Loan Repayment Programs (SLRP) as enlistment incentives. Although all the SLRPs are based on the same public law, they differ in their benefits and implementation guidelines. All of the programs place significant responsibility upon the service member to keep loans in good standing by obtaining administrative forbearances. Call 242-5325 or visit your Education Center for further information.

Diploma mills

Diploma mills range from schools that require minimum or substandard course work to those that simply sell degrees outright. Some of them may be difficult to distinguish from legitimate distance-learning programs, even claiming to be "accredited," although the accreditation comes from a meaningless agency. This type of fraudulent school is not new. At one time they did much of their advertising on the inside of matchbook covers. The Internet and mass e-mailing have married an old scam with new technology, creating what is a $200-million-per-year business by some estimates. If you have concerns about the accreditation of an institution your Education Center can help you.

Volunteer activities

Volunteers are an important part of every community. Research has found that even young children's participation in community service programs can make important contributions to their character development. Young people's participation in volunteer activities help meet vital community needs as they become responsible and engaged citizens.

Most high schools now require service learning hours for graduation and almost all colleges look for a consistent record of service that includes volunteer work hours, involvement in civic activities and internships.

The Boys' and Girls' Club of Porter Youth Center awards two $1,000 scholarships yearly to local military-connected students who have completed at least 100 volunteer hours of service to our community. This year the winners are Andrew Mahone and Cori Jackson. They have a combined volunteer total of 587.5 hours. Congratulations, Andrew and Cori. We salute you for your service to our community.

Parents should note that a good first step in finding a volunteer activity for your child is to find one that you and your child can participate in together. Volunteering benefits everyone.

Army policy on high school senior stabilization

More than 2,000 Army families have joined the stabilization program for soldiers with high school seniors. The program officially called "Stabilization for Soldiers—High School Seniors" began in April 2001 and allows a soldiers to extend a tour of duty at his or her current duty station for an additional year so a family member may graduate from high school. This initiative by Army leadership is a key component of Well-Being as it provides increased stability and predictability for families. However, stabilization is a request, not an entitlement. It can be disapproved. Also, the needs of the Army have always (and still) come first (especially in time of war).

Soldiers must request stabilization from PERSCOM before Sept. 1 of the family member's junior year. The request is made on DA Form 4187. There are many requirements associated with the request. You can find the entire MILPER message with contact numbers at: <http://PERSCOMND04.ARMY.MIL/MILPERmsgs.nsf/All+Documents/03-158?OpenDocument>.

United States send in their request for an absentee ballot in sufficient time and didn't receive their ballot, they can use the Federal Write-In Absentee Ballot. This form allows them to write in their votes and send it in by the deadline.

"Voting assistance officers at each overseas unit are required to have stock of the FWAB for this situation," Davis said.

Davis also said that if a soldier filled out and sent in the FWAB and then received a ballot, the local ballot could still be filled out and sent back in if it arrived in time.

Currently, Davis said the Army is trying to get out the message to get registered to as many soldiers as possible.

An AKO-all e-mail was sent at the beginning of May to 1.3 million recipients, reminding them of the importance to register and the details of how to do so. Davis said the e-mail was the largest ever sent out on AKO.

Senior Army leadership has directed an Army-wide Personnel Asset Inventory be conducted from July 30 through Aug. 15. This will be yet another opportunity to provide the Federal Post Card Application to soldiers and to provide the necessary support and assistance, Davis said.

"We've got an emphasis (on this issue) from the Secretary of Defense all the way down," Davis said. "We want to make sure all the soldiers are provided with the opportunity to register and cast their ballot."

• This article by John Runyan provided by Army News Service.

Americans across the country are now voting in presidential state primaries, but many soldiers can't make it to the polls. Members of the uniformed services or merchant marine and their family members may vote absentee while away from their place of voting residence, wherever stationed, inside or outside the United States. For members of the uniformed services and their family members, in most states the legal voting residence is defined as where they have, or have had, physical presence at the location and the intent to remain or return.

The 2004 elections officially began with the District of Columbia Presidential Preference Primary on Jan. 13, 2004. Primary elections play an important role in the electoral process. The names that will appear on the general election ballot on Nov. 2, 2004, are the candidates who were chosen during the primary election process. Voter participation is crucial in any election and primaries are no different. Because dates for both presidential and state primaries are spread throughout the year, be sure to consult your Unit Voting Assistance Officer.

The Department of Defense Voting Assistance Program aims to ensure that soldiers, members of their families and Department of Defense civilians overseas can exercise their right to vote. In order to register and/or vote absentee, an eligible U.S. citizen must carefully and accurately complete a Federal Post Card Application (FPCA) and then submit it to the proper election official.

All states and territories prescribe two voter requirements:

- A voter must be a citizen of the United States on the date of the election in which he or she wishes to vote.
- A voter must be at least 18 years old on election day. (Some states permit 17-year-olds to vote in primary elections if he or she will be 18 by the date of the general election.)

Department of Defense policy is to encourage and aid all voters to vote in federal, state and local elections. When practicable and compatible with military operations, all voters will be given the chance to register and vote in any election for which their state of voting residence has made absentee voting possible.
